

HE'S CURIOUS TO KNOW

(Copyright—1916—by John T. McCutcheon.)

—Chicago Daily Tribune.

In closing she said that the cry that President Wilson had "kept us out of war" had less foundation than any other claim President Wilson made for re-election. That England would not have fought us under any consideration because she needed our markets and our munition supplies. That Germany could not possibly fight us as she had her hands full with the allies, and moreover she could not get a man or a ship out of the North sea in order to attack us. She said that the only place where we could go to war on our own borders, namely Mexico, we were at war; that more people had been killed in Mexico during President Wilson's administration than had been killed altogether in the Spanish-American war.

Miss Martin appealed to the women of Tonopah and of Nevada to register a vote of protest against the president and the Democratic candidates for the senate and house. She urged them to show that by their votes they would not support a party and candidates of a party which continued to deny women justice. Miss Martin said that the important thing for women in the election on Tuesday was not to decide who was to be the next President, but to show that women would stand together, putting principle before party, and by registering this vote of protest take the first important step towards securing the submission of the Susan B. Anthony amendment by the next administration whether it be Republican or Democratic.

Throughout her talk she emphasized the non-partisan character of the Woman's party, showing that it had no connection or affiliation with any political party, but is organized solely for securing the speedy submission of the national suffrage amendment by means of the organized pressure of women's votes upon congress.

H. M. CLIFFORD & JOHN
MANION, Props.MISS MARTIN APPEALS TO VOTERS TO ASSIST CAUSEEmancipation of Women Opposed by President Wilson and a Democratic Congress

The Air dome was well filled last evening when an address was made by Miss Anne Martin, national chairman of the National Woman's party. Mrs. Hugh H. Brown presided as chairman. Mrs. Mabel Davis, Miss Marguerite U. Shields and several other members of the local organization acted as a committee on arrangements.

Miss Martin spoke for an hour and a half and was listened to with close attention. Miss Martin said that the issue before the women of Tonopah and of Nevada was not the support or opposition of any man in the Nevada campaign, but against the power of the Democratic party and of the candidates of the Democratic party, and to help the national suffrage amendment in the next administration. She said that Senator Pittman had given verbal and formal support in the early days of the Nevada campaign; that that support had ceased in September, 1914, at the dictation of his party, which opposed suffrage in Nevada. That he put his party first and suffrage second in the Nevada campaign, and that he put his party first and suffrage second in the United States senate on March 19, 1914, when he broke his promise and voted against the national suffrage amendment.

She said that the issue before the women of Nevada in this campaign is to demonstrate that they will hold the party in power responsible; because of the hostility of the Democratic party to the national suffrage amendment, that the former majority of the Democratic party in the suffrage states will be lowered. The next administration, whether it be Republican or Democratic, will realize that women are standing together and are determined to stand together for the principle of the national suffrage amendment, and in order to secure the support of these groups of women throughout the suffrage states, instead of incurring their opposition, will put through the national amendment whether the next administration be Democratic or Republican. Labor has won all its great victories by organized pressure upon congress, and women will win the national amendment in the same way—by organized pressure upon congress and upon the president.

President Wilson when urged last summer at the time of the St. Louis convention to write a plank in the St. Louis platform favoring national suffrage because the women of the west would oppose him if he did not, replied that he didn't believe in yielding to political expediency, and that, moreover, he believed the women couldn't deliver the votes. If we demonstrate by our action in this election on Tuesday that we have delivered the votes against the party that has blocked justice, our cause is won.

Miss Martin said in connection with Senator Pittman's statement that she and not President Wilson had urged the delay on the vote in the senate last June, that Senator Pittman was not fighting fair and that he knew he was not fighting fair by such misrepresentation. Her letter to the western suffrage senators urging the delay on the vote in June was written in order to prevent a premature vote on the amendment urged by opponents of the measure, which would have resulted in certain defeat and have killed the bill for the rest of the session. Miss Martin said that Pittman knows that this was the object of her letter, and that he misrepresented her in making the statement that she delayed the vote and not President Wilson.

She stated that the amendment never had any chance of carrying as long as President Wilson maintained his opposition to it and insisted that the women of this country win suffrage by the states. She said that President Wilson's recommendation to win suffrage by the states is a virtual denial of suffrage, as more than twenty state constitutions can not be amended, and that President Wilson has persistently opposed the national suffrage amendment because he wishes the support of anti-suffragists throughout the east in order that he may carry the states of New York, Indiana, Ohio, New Jersey and other states where amendments have recently failed of adoption.

It's Here!
The New Overland 75B

It has the following high grade features: Full-floating rear axle, genuine cellular radiator, cantilever springs, that are hung right, and, we claim, without fear of contradiction, to be the easiest riding car on the market. The bearings are the real annular and Timken and not those used in other low-priced cars.

Demountable rims and 31x4 tires, and the motor develops loads of power.

After you have had a demonstration in other cars, come and see us and let us prove our claims.
